Affective Publics Zizi Papacharissi, 2015 Over the past few decades, we have witnessed the growth of movements using digital means to connect with broader interest groups and express their points of view. These movements emerge out of distinct contexts and yield different outcomes, but tend to share one thing in common: online and offline solidarity shaped around the public display of emotion. Social media facilitate feelings of engagement, in ways that frequently make people feel re-energized about politics. In doing so, media do not make or break revolutions but they do lend emerging, storytelling publics their own means for feeling their way into events, frequently by making those involved a part of the developing story. Technologies network us but it is our stories that connect us to each other, making us feel close to some and distancing us from others. Affective Publics explores how storytelling practices facilitate engagement among movements tuning into a current issue or event by employing three case studies: Arab Spring movements, various iterations of Occupy, and everyday casual political expressions as traced through the archives of trending topics on Twitter. It traces how affective publics materialize and disband around connective conduits of sentiment every day and find their voice through the soft structures of feeling sustained by societies. Using original quantitative and qualitative data, Affective Publics demonstrates, in this groundbreaking analysis, that it is through these soft structures that affective publics connect, disrupt, and feel their way into everyday politics.

The Bullet Journal Method Ryder Carroll, 2021-12 THE NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER Transform your life using the Bullet Journal Method, the revolutionary organisational system and worldwide phenomenon. The Bullet Journal Method will undoubtedly transform your life, in more ways than you can imagine' Hal Elrod, author of The Miracle Morning In his long-awaited first book, Ryder Carroll, the creator of the enormously popular Bullet Journal organisational system, explains how to use his method to: * TRACK YOUR PAST: using nothing more than a pen and paper, create a clear, comprehensive, and organised record of your thoughts and goals. * ORDER YOUR PRESENT: find daily calm by prioritising and minimising your workload and tackling your to-do list in a more mindful and productive way. * PLAN YOUR FUTURE: establish and appraise your short-term and long-term goals, plan more complex projects simply and effectively, and live your life with meaning and purpose. Like many of us, Ryder Carroll tried everything to get organised - countless apps, systems, planners, you name it. Nothing really worked. Then he invented his own simple system that required only pen and paper, which he found both effective and calming. He shared his method with a few friends, and before long he had a worldwide viral movement. The system combines elements of a wishlist, a to-do list, and a diary. It helps you identify what matters and set goals accordingly. By breaking long-term goals into small actionable steps, users map out an approachable path towards continual improvement, allowing them to stay focused despite the crush of incoming demands. But this is much more than a time management book. It's also a manifesto for what Ryder calls intentional living: making sure that your beliefs and actions align. Even if you already use a Bullet Journal, this book gives you new exercises to become more calm and focused, new insights on how to prioritise well, and a new awareness of the power of analogue tools in a digital world.  This book has been printed with three different colour designs, black, Nordic blue and emerald. We are unable to accept requests for a specific cover. The different covers will be assigned to orders at random. ***

The Stardust in My Soulbones Rebekka Kaur,2020-05-11 This book compiles poems written by a person who believes that the sky is not the limit; it never was. It is an expression of the distance traveled by the words between the home built by the human race here and the interstellar forces swarming around the Cosmos. So, the writer has nicely captured the words dipped in stardust and wisdom into beautiful poetries to make you envision beyond the mundane existence of daily life. It will take you to places covered in the space dust that you have accumulated while traveling to different places in this milky way and beyond. The poems will make you see that you are much more than the bones and blood and tissues and this world is much more than your eyes can see. Just like a spell, the words in the poems might make you see the extraordinary you, living under the human skin and also, might set you in the direction which will take you to places that are left unseen and unnoticed by the analytical mind of yours. These poems are more like chants that the writer happened to capture for you to read; so that you have something to look upon, the next time you look up in the sky. It's for you to look at what is hiding in the upper layers of the atmosphere of this blue gem. Sometimes, you just need the eyes to look at what's up there and if you don't have them, even standing on the surface of the moon won't seem magical to you. I hope these poems will give you that kind of light to your eyes.
